ABOUT RICHARD CORNUELLE '48

Richard Cornuelle (1927-2011) was an author and activist who paved the way for the explosion of social entrepreneurship now bringing new confidence, energy, and effectiveness to voluntary initiatives for human betterment. In his seminal book (1965), Cornuelle transcended the Progressive assumptions that were fueling the expansion of the welfare state and offered an optimistic vision for "voluntary welfare" characterized by concerted action outside of government.

Cornuelle graduated from Occidental College in 1948. After pursuing graduate sea
